(1) Where a person dies domiciled in Uganda leaving a dependent relative then if the court, on application by or on behalf of the dependent relative of the deceased, is of opinion that the disposition of the deceased's estate effected by his will, is not such as to make reasonable provision for the maintenance of that dependent relative,

the court may order that such reasonable provision as the court thinks fit shall, subject to such conditions or restriction, if any as the court may impose, be made out of the deceased's estate for the maintenance of that dependent relative.

(2) The provision for maintenance to be made by an order under subsection (1) of this section shall,

- (a) Subject to the provisions of subsection (3) of this section, be where the deceased's estate produces an income, by way of periodical payments and such order shall provide for their termination not later,

- (b) Where the deceased's estate does not produce any income or sufficient income, authorize the applicant to receive such share, as the applicant would be entitled to in the distribution of the estate of an intestate under section 28 of this Act.

(3) The court may, if it sees fit, make an order providing for maintenance, in whole or in part, by way of a lump sum payment.

(4) In determining whether and in what way, and as from what date, provision for maintenance ought to be made by an order, the court shall have regard to the nature of the property representing the deceased's estate and shall not order any such provision to be made as would necessitate a realization that would be improvident having regard to the interests of the deceased's dependants and of the persons who, apart from the order, would be entitled to that property.

- (a) Have regard,
 - (i) The any past, present or future capital or income from any source of the dependant of the deceased to whom the application relates;

- (b) To the deceased's reasons so far as ascertainable,
 - (i) For making the dispositions made by his will (if any); or
 - (ii) For refraining from disposing by will of his estate; or
 - (iii) For not making any provision, or any further provision, as the case may be, for a dependant, and the court may accept such evidenced of those reasons as it considers sufficient including any statement in writing signed by the deceased and dated, so, however that in estimating the weight, if any, to be attached to any such statement the court shall have regard to all the circumstances from which any inference can reasonably be drawn as to the accuracy or otherwise of the statement.

46C. (1) Except as provided by section 46F of this Act, an application under section 46A of this Act shall not, without the permission of the court, be made after the end of the period of six months from the date on which representation in regard to the estate of the deceased is first taken out:

Provided that where letters of administration are revoked and probate is granted, time begins to run from the date of the grant of probate.

(2) The provisions of sections 46B and 46F of this Act shall not render the personal representatives of the deceased liable for having distributed any part of the estate of the deceased after the expiration of the said period of six months on the ground that they ought to have taken into account the possibility that the court might permit an application under this Act after the end of that period, but this subsection shall be without prejudice to any power to recover any part of the estate so distributed arising by virtue of the making of an order under this Act.

46D. (1) Where an order is made under section 46B of this Act, then, for all purposes, the will shall have effect and shall be deemed to have had effect as from the deceased's death, subject to such variations as may be specified in the order for the purpose of giving effect to the provision for maintenance thereby made.

(2) Any order under section 46B of this Act, providing for maintenance by way of periodical payments may provide for payments of a specified amount or for payments equal to the whole or part of the income of the net estate or of the income of any party to be set aside or appropriated under this Act of the net estate or may provided for the amount of the payments or any of them to be determined in any other way the court thinks fit.

(3) The court may give such consequential directions as it thinks fit for the purpose of giving effect to an order made under this Act, but no larger part of the net estate shall be set aside or appropriated to answer by the income thereof the provision for maintenance thereby made than such a part as, at the date of the order, is sufficient to produce by the income thereof the amount of the said provision. 46E. (1) On an application made at a date after the expiration of the period specified in subsection (1) of section 46C of this Act, the court may make such an order as is hereinafter mentioned, but only as respects property the income of which is at the date applicable for the maintenance of a dependant of the deceased, that is to say,

- (a) An order for varying the previous order on the ground that any material fact was not disclosed to the court when the order was made, or that any substantial change has taken place in the circumstances of the dependant or of a person beneficially interested in the property under the will; or
- (b) An order for making provision for the maintenance of another dependant of the deceased.

(2) An application to the court for an order under paragraph (a) of the preceding subsection may be made by or on behalf of a dependant of the deceased or by the trustees of the property or by or on behalf of a person beneficially interested therein under the will.

46F. (1) Where, on application for maintenance under this Act, it appears to the court,

- (a) That the applicant is in immediate need of financial assistance, but it is not yet possible to determine what order (If any) should be made on the application for the provision of maintenance for the applicant; and
- (b) That property forming part of the estate of the deceased is or can be made available to meet the need of the applicant, the court may order that, subject to such conditions or restrictions, if any, as the court may impose and any further order of the court, there shall be paid to or for the benefit of the applicant out of the deceased's estate such sum or sums and (if more than one) at such intervals as the court thinks reasonable.

(2) In determining what order should be made under this section, the court shall, so far as the urgency of the case admits, take account of the same considerations as would be relevant in determining what order should be made on the application for the provision of maintenance for the applicant and any subsequent order for the provision of maintenance may provide that sums paid to or for the benefit of the applicant by virtue of this section, shall be treated to such extent, if any, and in such manner as may be provided by that order as having been paid on account of the maintenance provided for by that order.

(3) Subject to the provisions of subsection (2) of this section, section 46D of this Act shall apply in relation to an order under this section as it applies in relation to an order providing for maintenance.

(4) Where the deceased's personal representative pays any sum directed by an order under this section to be paid out of the deceased's net estate, he shall be under any liability by reason of that estate not being sufficient to make the payment, unless, at the time of making the payment, he has reasonable cause to believe that the estate is not sufficient."
